Comparison of Annual International Labor Force Estimates

Four organizations compile internationally comparable annual series of unemployment rates for elected countries:

1. The ILC division of BLS publishes unemployment rates adjusted to U.S. concepts, as described in this report.
2. The International Labor Organization (ILO) publishes ILO-comparable unemployment rates for 30 countries. The rates are based on ILO concepts, which are broader than U.S. concepts.
3. EUROSTAT publishes harmonized unemployment rates based on its own interpretation of ILO concepts for European Union countries. Since 1992, EUROSTAT concepts are similar to U.S. concepts, but some differences remain.
4. OECD publishes Harmonized Unemployment Rates (HURs) based on its own interpretation of ILO concepts for 30 member countries. For 1983 onward, OECD uses EUROSTAT's harmonized unemployment rates for European Union countries.
